In recognition from realty boards in the area, Keith Harris was elected president of the Metro South Association of Realtors, which serves Clayton, Henry and Butts Counties. Harris, currently an associate broker with the Bullard Jonesboro office, previously served as managing broker of the Griffin office, who recently merged with the Jonesboro office. Stephan Curcio, who is with Bullard's Peachtree City office, was named Rookie of the Year by the Fayette County Board of Realtors.

The oldest and largest real estate company headquartered in the Metro South area of Atlanta, Coldwell Banker Bullard is currently ranked No. 12 among "Atlanta's Top 25 Residential Real Estate Companies” and No. 9 among “Atlanta’s Top 10 Residential of Real Estate Organizations” in the Atlanta Business Chronicle’s recently-released listing of the metro area’s largest residential real estate companies.

The Bullard organization, founded in 1956 by the late Cliff Bullard, is headquartered in Jonesboro. The company worked out a franchise agreement with Coldwell Banker Real Estate Corporation in early 1998 and is the largest Coldwell Banker franchise in Georgia. Current Owner and President Steve Bullard has been with the company for more than 35 years.

Even during a challenging real estate market, the Bullard organization has continued to grow, having added three companies, Coldwell Banker Joe T. Lane Realty, Coldwell Banker Fulton Realty Associates and Century 21 Southern Crescent, through acquisitions since September of 2007.
